MIDSEASON HUNT OF KESWICK CLUB

Following Exhilarating Chase, Delicious Breakfast Is Served.

Keswick, Va., February 20 .- The meet of the Keswick hounds Saturday was at Keswick Station, and the run was over the beautiful estate of Edward H. Fellowes, thence down on Broad Oaks, the former home of the Meads, but now the leased property of Dr. O'Brian, thence on to Paradise and Happy Valley, and back again through Paradise and Broad Oaks and Ingleside to the finish, where Mrs. W C. Reed, the former owner of Ingleside, but who is now visiting the Thur-mans and Felloweses, gave the breakfast. The course was well chosen, and the fencing no make believe work, but good, stiff plank and post and rail, with here and there a made up fence of stiff plank and cedar, in imitation of a steeplechase course. The pace was fast and furlous, and the going firm and good, being nearly all on turf. Those riding were:

were: Murray Boocock, president of the club; Mrs. W. C. Reed, the hos-Shields, Mr. and Mrs. George Macon, Leslie Robinson, Mr. and Mrs. Rankin. Mrs. Bloom, Mrs. Chapman, Mrs. R. B. Crawford, Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Craig. Dr. Harry Jackson, Miss Mary Fox, Miss Fanny Long, Joseph Everett Mrs. Chittenden, Miss Chittenden, Arthur Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. Horne, Miss Tut-tle, Miss Updegraff, Mr. Hilleary, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hancock, J. A. Chalo-ner, Cary Randolph, Mr. and Mrs. Robert McMurdo.

The house was tastefully decorated in the club colors, red and green. The table decorations were also in the club colors, but unique in that they were a reproduction of the ring at the International Show at Olympia. Minlature brush, water and rail jumps were all around the table. The flowers here were red and green also, carnations and narcissus. Miniature favors in hant colors, take-offs on the various riders, afforded much amusement and conjecture. No hunt breakfast at Keswick has been more complete or gen-uinely loyal to the Keswick color scheme than this.

Murray Boocock gracefully presided over the punch bowl, while Mrs. Grace Shields poured the popular Arabian invention. Hunt songs were sung and toasts given, and the entire affair was considered a most happy and enjoyable occasion

Any man who has had any experience in these things knows all of this, and would never be so foolish as to attempt to criticize a ball player during the period when he is just tossing them up. Such criticism simply betokens ignorance, and for the youngsters who may feel hurt at these blatant utterances, I should suggest ignoring them.

on West Broad Street, was held last night, when the members met in regular session to consider many questions of importance, chief among which was the subject of good roads.

Not content with having held a conference in Richmond, attended by members of the Legislature, supervisors of roads and other officials in the counties between Richmond and Gordonsville, the association decided to hold a similar conference in Louisa early in March. E. G. Leigh, Jr., who was selected at the last meeting aspresident of the Richmond-Louisa-Gordonsville highway, has found it impossible to serve, and the next convention, which, in all probability, will be presided over by Judge Sims, will name his successor. In addition it will be the alm of the delegates to secure the further co-operation of the supervisors of roads in order to have the highway placed in good condition some time during the espring months.

Richmond-Emporin Convention Now.

It was further decided to invite to Richmond, upon a date to be later decided, all of the members of the Legislature, supervisors of roads, and Mayors of the cities lying along the route betwen Richmond and the North Carolina line. The men who will be present at this convention will be contentant along lines similar to the plan carried out at the initial meeting This route is via Petersburg and Emporia, and is a very important link between Richmond and the State across the border.

A committee composed of Allen Potts, I. A. Folger, I. M. Foster, H. C. Peek and H. S. Hawes was appointed to consider details and to report to the next meeting of the association Practically all of the money needed for the entertainment of the visitors has been already subscribed.

Discuss Umland Traffic Ordinance.

Probably one of the most important matters considered by the meeting was the Umlauf regulating traffic on the city streets. It was the sense of the association that while in general the ordinance was a good measure, there were certain amendments which would add at once to its force, and at the same time remove certain provisions which may prove a hardship to the users of vehicles. In order to express the opinion of the organization a committee will appear before the Council Committee on Ordinance, Charter and Reform to be held to-night for the purpose of making suggestions.

Some of the suggestions will be as regards the limits of the congested districts; the speed limit allowed in those districts; clearly defining the congested districts, and stating just between what hours the districts are supposed to be erowded.

No Drunken Drivers.

No Drunken Drivers.

The association also will ask that that all vehicles be compelled to carry lights at night and that no intoxicated person be allowed to drive any kind of vehicle, regardless of its mot've power, under heavy penalty. Neither of the named provisions is now in the ordinance.

The club rooms were greatly admired by the members, the decorations and furnishings being particularly attractive. The following members were named as a house committee: E. C. Pelouze, J. T. Palmatory and Dr. J. Fulmer Bright. The following new members were elected. James A. Moncure,

First Game of College Basketball Ever Played in Raleigh.

Raleigh.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Raleigh, N. C., February 20.—In the first game of college basketball ever played in Raleigh, A. and M. turned the tables on Wake Forest for its defeat of last Thursday night in Wake Forest, by a score of 33 to 6, and came back strong, defeating the Baptist 19 to 18.

The game was hotly contested throughout, but owing to a slippery floor both teams were at a disadvantage. The score at the end of the first half stood 15 to 11 in favor of A. and M. The Baptists played hard in the second half, keeping the Red and White on the jump. Every man on the A. asd M. team did good work, while for Wake Forest B. Holding and Mc-Cutcheon and Dowd did particularly good work.
